Part II Organizational Action Attach additional statements if needed. See back of form for additional questions.

14 Describe the organizational action and, if applicable, the date of the action or the date against which shareholders' ownership is measured for the action ▶ On June 19, 2019, shareholders of Youngevity International, Inc. ("YGYI") converted 105 shares of Series B Preferred Shares ("Preferred Stock") into 210 shares of YGYI's common stock, ("Common Stock") in accordance with the terms of a Certificate of Designation of Powers, Preferences and Rights of Series B Convertible Preferred Stock which was filed with the Delaware Secretary of State on March 2, 2018, (the "Conversion"). No other consideration was received by the shareholders in the conversion.

15 Describe the quantitative effect of the organizational action on the basis of the security in the hands of a U.S. taxpayer as an adjustment per share or as a percentage of old basis ▶ See attached.

16 Describe the calculation of the change in basis and the data that supports the calculation, such as the market values of securities and the valuation dates ▶ See Line 15 above; to the extent the exchange satisfies the requirements of Section 368(a)(1)(E), the shareholder's aggregate tax basis in the Common Stock received will equal the aggregate tax basis in the Preferred Stock surrendered.

17 List the applicable Internal Revenue Code section(s) and subsection(s) upon which the tax treatment is based ▶ Internal Revenue Code Section 356; Section 358; Section 368; and Section 1223.

18 Can any resulting loss be recognized? ▶ To the extent the Conversion satisfies the requirements of sections 368(a)(1)(E) and 354(a), loss is generally not permitted to be recognized.

19 Provide any other information necessary to implement the adjustment, such as the reportable tax year ▶ The stock basis adjustments are taken into account in the tax year of the shareholder during which exchange occurred. For example, in the case of any shareholders who are calendar year taxpayers, the exchange is reportable in the tax year ending December 31, 2019.

The holding period for the shares of Common Stock received in the Conversion generally includes the holding period of the Preferred Stock exchanged.

Part II Line 15

The Company intends to treat the Conversion as a recapitalization under Section 368(a)(1)(E) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code").

To the extent the Conversion satisfies the requirements of Section 368(a)(1)(E), under Section 354(a), a holder of the Preferred Stock recognizes no gain or loss as a result of the exchange of the Preferred Stock for Common Stock.

A holder's basis in the Common Stock received in the Conversion is determined under Section 358(a). Generally, the shareholder's aggregate tax basis in the Common Stock received pursuant to the Conversion will equal the aggregate tax basis in the Preferred Stock surrendered in the Conversion.

Once each Preferred Stockholder determines its initial basis in its shares of the Common Stock received in the Conversion, such Preferred Stockholder allocates its basis amount in the Preferred Stock exchanged to its shares of the Common Stock received. To determine the per-share basis in each share of Common Stock, the aggregate basis amount is divided by the number of shares of Common Stock received in the exchange. The tax basis generally is required to be calculated separately for each block of the Preferred Stock exchanged. Shareholders having differing tax basis among their shares of Preferred Stock surrendered should consult with their tax advisor in order to identify the tax basis of the particular share or shares of Common Stock received pursuant to the exchange.

The holding period of the Common Stock received by a shareholder includes the holding period of the Preferred Stock exchanged by such shareholder if such shareholder held such Preferred Stock as a capital asset.

The share conversions during 2019 include:

Conversion Date	Preferred Stock	Common Stock
June 19, 2019	105	210
